We live in the age of outrage. I am dismayed to witness the level of hostility expressed on social media when differing views are contested. Even in the church, we so easily become irked by relatively minor differences in theology, and launch into a vitriolic attack on our neighbour.

understanding of the depth of thought and emotion that has brought the person to this place. Perhaps we need more of this in the body of Christ.

James Cone, in his book The Cross and the Lynching Tree, describes what he calls organic theology.

I'm not saying that we should not be diligent in 'rightly dividing the word of truth' (2 Tim 2:15) but certainly we need to pay attention to the biblical instruction to 'gently restore a brother' (Galatians 6:1).

"GO AND LISTEN TO THE VOICES, UNCOVER THE EXPERIENCES, LIVE INTO THE STORIES, BE WITH THE PAIN AND STRUGGLE OF YOUR CONTEXT. ONLY THEN, SPEAK THE GOSPEL."

In the Arts and Literature field, students are taught to engage in a method called classical imitatio where they are trained to embody a character, taking on that person's mindset and attitudes. Not to produce a humorous or crude caricature, but to gain an

What a beautiful challenge for us to engage with others who differ from us (especially among believers).

On Thursday 17 May 2018, The King's School West Rand hosted the third in the series of the Mini Netball Festivals. Maragon Avianto and Maragon Ruimsig joined us for some super fun in the sun. It was a lovely afternoon and our girls played such fabulous netball. Well done to all of our teachers and coaches for teaching our girls to play such a polished game of netball!

SOCCER

Our fields were buzzing with activity on Thursday 17 May 2018 as we hosted Horizon View Primary School u12 and u13 soccer teams. After a nail-biting match our u12's won 4-3. Unfortunately our other teams lost.

WELL DONE TEAM - WE ARE SO PROUD OF YOU. EVERYTHING OF THE BEST TO ALL OF OUR TEAMS FOR THE REST OF THE SEASON!

School fees must be paid in advance, before the 7th of each month, 12 Months of the year.
