Dear parents, let us not grow weary of praying for our children. Here are some things I am praying for our children this year:

- That they may develop dedicated, daily times of solitude in the presence of the Lord and in his Word.
- That they may develop strong interpersonal skills, interacting with others face to face, including adults.
- That they may deepen their empathy for people who are hurting.
- That they may have confidence to attempt new projects and even risk failure, knowing that they will grow through it.
- That they may have peace of mind to replace and combat anxiety and depression.
- That they may develop disciplined boundaries on social media.

• That they will build great habits in their school life that will translate to a future vocation.

• That they will hunger after biblically based ethics and values as they make decisions for the future.

What are some of the things you are praying for with regards to your children? Perhaps you can join me on some of these. Let us be like Epaphras, in the book of Colossians:

"He is always wrestling in prayer for you, that you may stand firm in all the will of God, mature and fully assured."
