

A group of people are gathered around a campfire at night, sitting on logs and enjoying the warmth. The scene is set in a wooded area with trees in the background. The lighting is warm and cozy, highlighting the fire and the people's faces.

IT'S CAMP WEEK!

from the

PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Every year, at the end of the first term, we organise school camps for our students. Perhaps you think that we do this simply to give our students a little bit of 'down-time' after a busy start to the year.

This could not be further from the truth. School camps are an integral part of 'Excellence in Education to the Glory of God', our school's mission. The learning that happens on school camp is deeply impactful on children and often includes learning experiences that simply cannot be gained within the classroom.

As your child arrives home, you will be able to reflect with them on some of the learning objectives that we have set for the camps (right after they catch up on some much-needed sleep):

- Develop executive functioning skills such as initiation skills, being organised, and pushing through to completion of tasks.

- Experience an encounter with God in nature away from the comforts and familiarity of home.
- Disconnect with technology and reconnect with self and others.
- Gain experiential learning.
- Build lasting relationships with other students.
- Learn about nature.
- Develop social skills and collaboration in group activities.
- Improve independence and confidence away from parents and the structured routine of the school day.
- Get to know their teachers in a more informal setting.

As a school, we are aware that it is often very emotionally taxing, and fear-inducing, for parents to release their children to go on school camp, and we wish to thank our parents for investing in their child in this way. Our children have the opportunity at camp to build memories that will last a lifetime.

- Mr Ken Langley, Principal
